Weddings at Bristol Old Vic

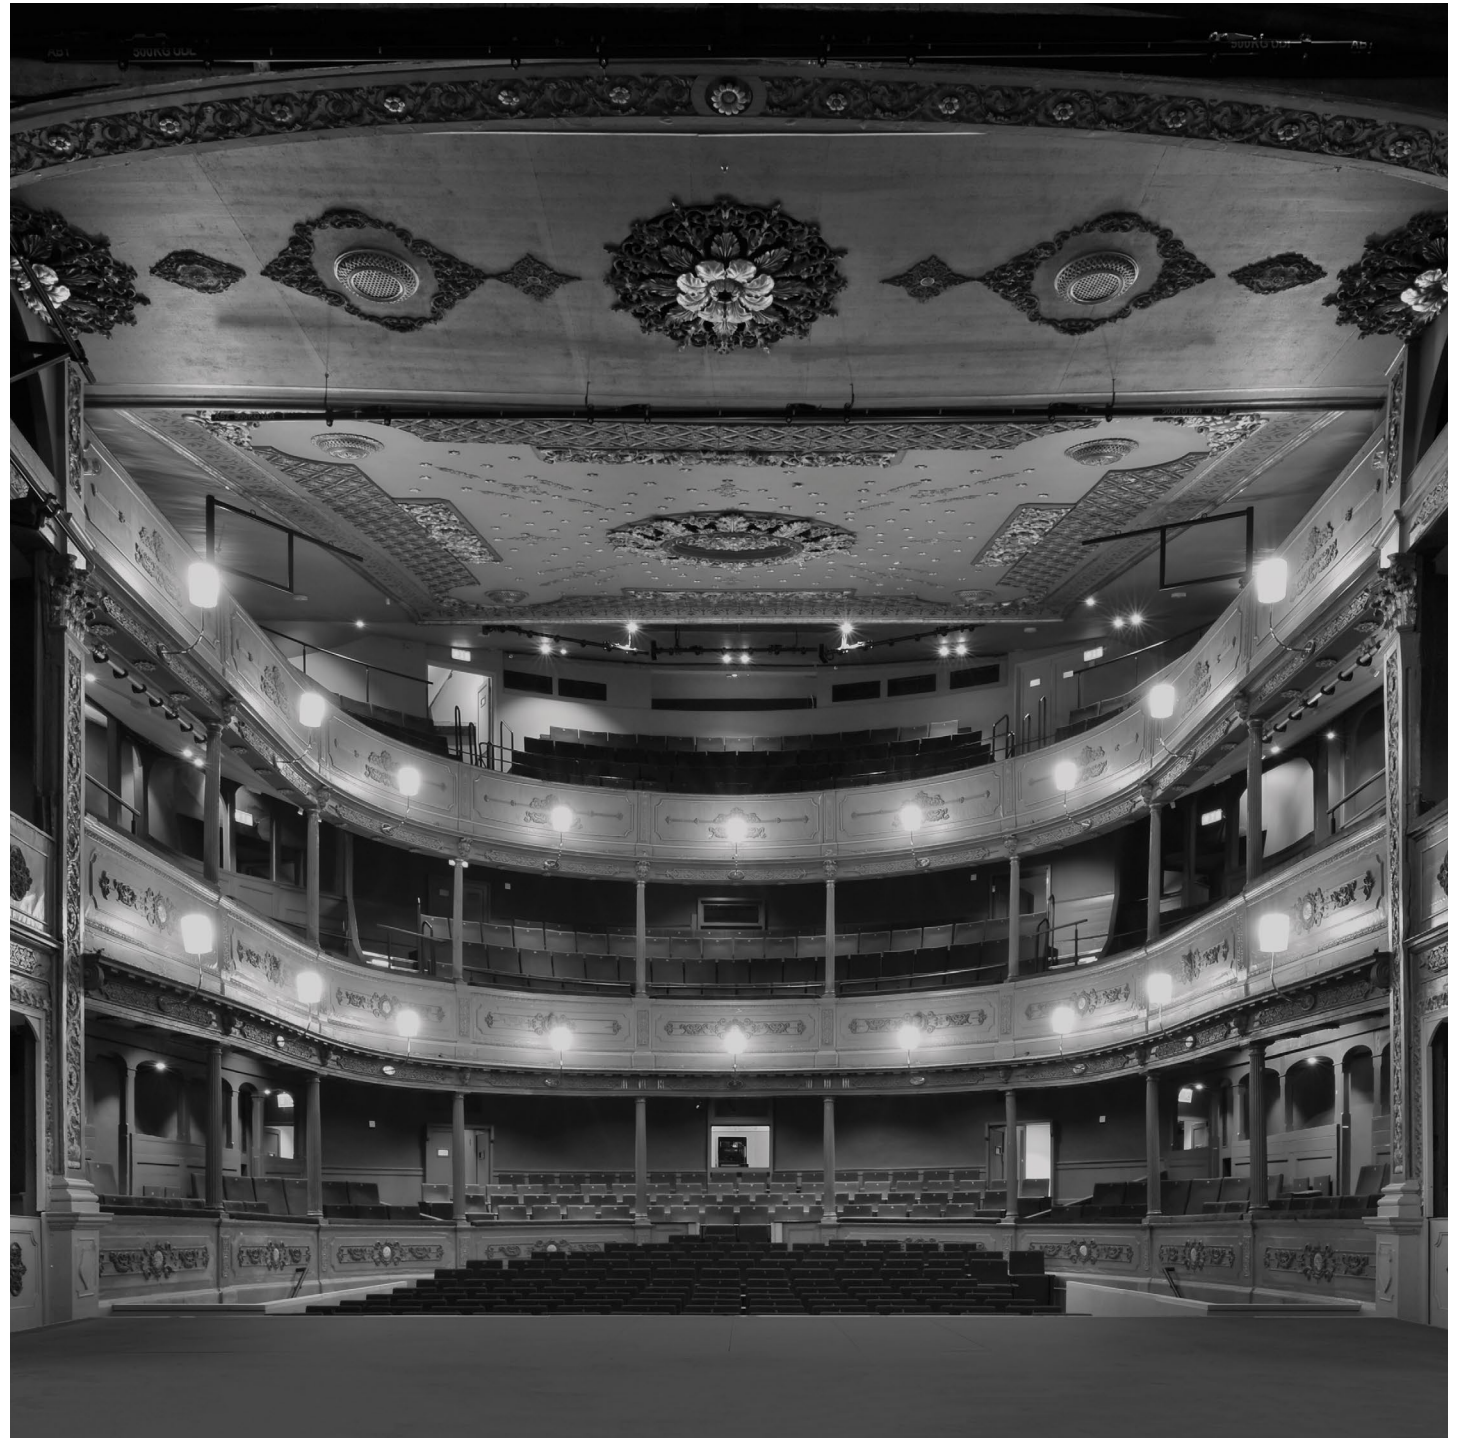

About Us

Built in 1766, Bristol Old Vic is the oldest continuously working theatre in the English speaking world.

Following a multi-million-pound transformation in 2018, Bristol Old Vic provides an elegant, historic and creative space for civil ceremonies, wedding breakfasts and receptions.

Feel like a star in your own theatrical production as you celebrate the most important day of your lives in a venue that has played host to some of the country's most famous actors, from Daniel Day Lewis and Jeremy Irons, to Patrick Stewart and Judi Dench.

What's more, money spent at your wedding will go towards supporting Bristol Old Vic for future generations.

Coopers' Hall

Coopers' Hall

Grade I listed Coopers' Hall was originally built as a Georgian banqueting hall in 1744. With its high ceilings, exquisite, crystal chandeliers and huge windows flooding the beautifully-proportioned space with natural light, the elegantly-renovated hall provides all the romance and drama that such a special occasion demands.

The room is available for wedding ceremonies and receptions and can cater for up to 110 formally-seated guests and up to 150 for standing and theatre-style events.

Theatre

Theatre

Always wanted to take centre stage?

Where better to say “I do” than on the main stage of our beautiful, historic main auditorium? Tread the boards of great actors past and present as you tie the knot in theatrical style.

Following extensive refurbishment, the historic Georgian auditorium was officially reopened in 2012 and can accommodate up to 540 friends and family.

The Weston Studio

The brand new Weston Studio theatre, located directly below Coopers' Hall, is ideal for more contemporary wedding celebrations and canapé or bowl food receptions, and accomodates up to 150 guests.

Food

When it comes to your wedding, there's enough on your plate without having to worry about every little catering detail.

That's why we've teamed up with another local institution, family-owned Fosters Events, one of the leading caterers in the South West, to deliver an exceptional culinary experience for your wedding.

Overseen by Chef Director Tom Green, who worked with Michelin two-starred Michael Caines and was head chef at the highly acclaimed Riverstation restaurant in Bristol, their menus feature the highest quality fresh and locally-sourced produce.

"From the word go we felt completely confident that you and your team knew exactly what you were doing. All of our guests commented on how wonderful the food was, along with the welcome drinks and canapés. Fosters were so much more than 'caterers' and exceeded all our expectations."

Ingredients

We never compromise on quality and provenance when it comes to our ingredients. From the fish delivered daily from Brixham, to the Somerset strawberries in our panna cotta, our talented chefs only use the finest, freshest local and seasonal produce to design imaginative and tasty menus – perfect for your wedding.

“The food was outstanding; from canapés to dessert, everyone said it was the best food they’d ever had at a wedding and was like dining at a top restaurant.”

Drink

From traditional to contemporary, Champagne to Cocktails, whatever your favourite tippie we'll serve it in style at your wedding reception.

Our wine list is equally diverse with old and new world options to suit all palates and pockets.

"The food, the service, just everything was absolutely amazing, we could not have asked for anything more."

Wedding Planning

To guide you through the planning process, our service includes an experienced Wedding Co-ordinator and dedicated Event Manager to look after your big day and ensure everything runs smoothly. In addition, to make certain that all your guests are well looked after, our prices include a team of waiting staff and all the furniture, linen and crockery for your wedding breakfast.

If you're after something a little more special than our contemporary tableware, we work with some fantastic suppliers and can source everything from candelabras to golden cutlery.

"Thank you so much for helping us put on a fantastic wedding. All our guests raved about the food, and in particular noted how professional and friendly the waiting staff were."
