

I can only feel warmth

By Amena Kofi

I know they tell you not to look down as you're trying to make your way towards a new life because what a shame it would be for you to freeze from fear stagnate, plans for your next steps unable to circulate but still, sometimes the space below catches my eye and I see how high I am during moments like that, my heart could never feel anything other than warmth
