Love in Gravitational Waves

Love in Gravitational Waves by Testament is a two-hander that is inspired by multi-generational interviews with over 40 people that articulates the vapid nature of contemporary dating through a fast-paced comedy-drama about the forces that bring us together and push us apart. After her break up, we follow Bronwyn; a woman who decides to exclusively date men who have the opposite views to her. It's about love, politics, bridging the gap in a divided world...and a serial killer.
